Reply to Office Action of Dec. 19, 2006

Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 7, line 14, with the following rewritten paragraph:

The base panel 14 of the base member 12 further includes a locking attachment device provided for removably securing the video display unit 10 to the video game console 2. The attachment device for the X-Box® video game console 2 includes a guide flange 22 which substantially circumscribes a perimeter of a top portion of the game console 2. A mounting rib (mounting member) 24, extending inwardly from an inner surface of the front face 15f of the guide flange, engages one of two horizontal grooves 6 formed in the front surface 4f of the gaming console. (See Figs. 15 and 5.)
